

RESERVATION FEES WITH RAILPASSES

When to Reserve: Reservations can be made as early as two months in advance (three months for TGV, Thalys, and international trains to/from France, six for Eurostar or Germany's City Night Lines), or up to an hour in advance if places are still available. Trains that require reservations also limit the number of seats available to passholders. It is wise to reserve as soon as you're ready to commit to a date and time for night trains, weekends and holidays, high season, routes with infrequent service, trains you cannot afford to miss, or if you need several seats together. Pay required fees before boarding, or the conductor will charge more en route.

In Europe: You can get reservations at train stations or at travel agencies in Europe (cheapest, but you may need to be flexible).

At Home: You can book online under "Passholder Reservations" at www.raileurope.com or call them in the US at 800/438-7245 (in Canada 800/361-7245). Reservations in the US cost a little more than in Europe, and must be delivered to you (shipping, phone, and other fees apply). Or, www.euraide.de/ricksteves (tel/fax 781-828-2488) make reservations at European rates plus a $50 handling fee and two-week delivery (good value for 6 or more reservations). Rick Steves' Europe does not make reservations.
